

Tierica Berry

Tierica Berry is an Award-Winning author, Trainer and Social-Emotional Learning Specialist whose work has transformed the lives of thousands of teachers, leaders and students. Her deeply transformative professional development seminars guide educators and leaders in emotional intelligence, reconnecting with the disconnected and engaging the disengaged. Her expertise in the arena of social emotional learning goes hand-in-hand with culturally relevant and responsive teaching and is the key to releasing and unleashing the true potential of students. She has authored multiple books for teen girls including Unpacking the Emotional Suitcase an activity guide for emotional success and Teach a Girl to Fish: Lessons of Responsibility and Accountability for Young Women. Her passion for empowering girls can be summed up in one statement, "If you want to uplift a community start with its women because it is through women that all communities are born."
